Legislative State Register.

WALTERS & WEBER will publish, during the next session of the Legislature, at Springfield, in a tasteful paper, of quarto size, under the name of Old Hickory; which will contain all the proceedings of both houses of the General Assembly, as expeditious as the nature of the duty, and such editorial remarks as those subjects may call for.

Able reporters have been engaged for both houses, who will report the proceedings with the utmost sketch of the debates.

The price of the Legislative State Register will be $1 25 per copy, for one session; $2, and not exceed $3, payable always in advance.

Candidates before the Legislature.

For the information of our readers, we think it advisable to publish the names of such gentlemen as have been spoken of as candidates for the several offices in the gift of the Legislature. We publish all that have come to our knowledge, but will not add, in a single instance, any others of which we may be informed.

For the United States Senate—Hon. Richard M. Young, Hon. Stephen A. Douglass, and John A. McClernand.

For Speaker of the House of Representatives—Samuel Hackleton, Richard Murphy, and Stephen R. Mason.

For Secretary of the Senate—Merit A. Carroll and Isaac R. Diller.

For Clerk of the House—George Davis and Thomas Dowling.

For Sergeant at Arms of the Senate—Dowling Baugh and Wilkinson.

For same of the House—Mr. Latshaw of the Wabash Bottoms.

For Sergeant at Arms of the Senate of Mr. McDowell, of Sangamon; Mr. Wm. Brown, and Mr. Hoyt, of Peoria county.

For same of the House—Mr. Hall, of Perry.

Remarks on the Public Printing.

Our readers may have noticed that the whig papers, as well as some democratic ones, assume the tone of censure for respectable gentlemen who resign to run for the office of public printer elsewhere. In this connection, Mr. McDonald of Vandalia, Mr. Brooks of Alton, and Mr. Baker, of Jacksonville, have been also announced. The democratic and whig papers all over the State have generally taken some ground on this matter. The Democratic Association elected the election of Mr. Zeiber. The Belleville Advocate prefers Mr. Brooks, and "if there is to be any change of the present public printer." The St. Clair Gazette, again needs no further, to decree the Belleville Herald. The Sangamo Journal, the Alton Telegraph, the Belleville Advocate, (the only names, (whig papers) seem anxious to leave us best by something to say. The Quincy Whig and Chronicle Courier prefer us to any one named. We thank them for papers for their preference. It may, accordingly, be therefore come the more welcome.

We have but seldom seen any money on this subject. We have held the office of public printer for six years. We have been approved by the people of this State. We have been twice honored with the public work ever since we have been in the office. We have never asked for it. We have never solicited it. We have never, by word or deed, given the slightest intimation that we desired it. We have never, by word or deed, given the slightest intimation that we desired it. France.

We have received a letter, dated August 27th, 1845, from a friend residing in Paris, the following extracts from which we suppose will be interesting to our readers. Our correspondent is a native of France, who resided in the United States for several years, and who now has been present to enable to judge very lately of the feelings and opinions of the people generally. He continues with the Republican party of that country grew more formidable since he left it, the party may be supposed to coincide with those of his politics. Louis Philippe. It was also evident that the presidents of our American papers have not been misrepresented by the French papers. They did not attempt to conceal their contempt for our institutions nor in favor of the existing dynasty. Indeed, they do not express their sentiments in opposition to it with bitterness or malice. They generally speak and gain admiration into the Court circles, and express their approbation of the wisdom of the present government, and of again to come. Some of the ministers are said to be men of great magnitude and importance.

The Queen arrived at Portsmouth on July, 1843, and the whole amount of expenditure was for that visit £7,776,213 81. Here are the items:

Queen's private purse,	£6,329,587
Civil list,	505,000
Lord Steward's department,	1,000
Lord Chamberlain's department,	1,000
Master of the Horse,	1,000
Ordnance,	428,626
Total,	£7,776,213 81

The whole loss is divided into one hundred and twenty sections, numbered from 1 to 120, and it is then in the Crown Inn, by which the Queen passed, and 55 on the Portsmouth road. The 120 being 55, 60 and 55 on the Portsmouth road. The 120 being 55, 60 and 55 on the Portsmouth road. The 120 being 55, 60

FELLOW CITIZENS—You have all read, or no doubt will soon enquire, the Proclamation of the "Union Citizens" forbidding the reception of State Bank paper for taxes. From the long connection which has existed between the bank and the State, and from the fact that the bank has been the fiscal agent of the State, and by her encouraged, you reasonably expected, and therefore, to my poor mind, it seems the duty, according to the existing laws. The view, resting as it does upon good money in future, alone ex-cepted, I am unable to see how it can be avoided. The question then arises, is it wise, is it patriotic, under these circumstances? Shall no millpay? Shall no taxes be paid? Shall we all suffer rather than we can pay in the currency that circulates freely by us? In answer to these questions, I propose to address to no power under heaven the reasons why I am in favor of the payment of taxes in State Bank paper; and why I am willing to pay it myself, will be such a great measure. The merely, but since the Illinois State paper is not receivable, I do not

THE subscribers have opened a shop in the small brick building on the north side of the public square, (for several years known as the "Old Bank,") where they will always be ready to wait upon those who may favor them with their patronage. They flatter themselves that from long practice, required a skill scarcely to be attained elsewhere, in keeping up with the fashions, they can please all.

In anticipation of the multitude of strangers that may spend the winter in the midst of our seasons, they have selected a stand in the most public part of the square, where they hope that no stranger will always be kept clean and comfortable for the accommodation of the public, and they hope by a constant effort to please, to merit and receive a liberal share of patronage from a generous people.

JAMES F. REED.

Jonesboro, Sept. 18, 1846.

To the Citizens of Sangamon.

FELLOW CITIZENS.—You have all read, or no doubt will read, each succeeding number of the Northern Cross, and Illinois Observer, published at the county seat of your county. From the above paper you have learned, that I have purchased the book and the lease, and from the fact that the editor of presently has been so essentially affected by this occurrence, you naturally suppose, and honorable, to pay your respects to your paper, and to the public generally. You have, you suppose, been under the necessity of resorting to divers shifts and expedients to keep up your paper for the last month. The present crisis being one which is to be found under these circumstances? Shall we suffer? Shall we not pay to the country the obligations we are under to the country that circulates among the people? Shall we not pay to the country that circulates among the people? Shall we not pay to the country that circulates among the people? Shall we not pay
